Eco-Friendly? Health-Conscious? Discover the Hidden Benefits of Linen

A fabric that not only makes you feel great, but is healthy for you and helps protect the environment?

Yes, linen is really that good! Even though this premiere all-natural fabric has been celebrated for thousands of years, researchers are learning more and more every day about the health benefits of linen.

Thatâ??s right; linen is the healthy fabric, a clean-living alternative that can have long-reaching and fundamental health benefits for you.

Take a look at just a few of the reasons why linen is the healthy choice for long-lasting elegance as well as a healthier you!

- ecologically-friendly
- hypoallergenic
- antibacterial
- thermo-regulating
- anti static
- gamma and solar radiation protection
- high air permeability
- high heat conductivity

Ecologically-Friendly

Check this out: When you choose linen, you not only invest in the highest quality fabric, you help the environment. Linen requires five times less pesticides and fertilizers than cotton. Do your part. Buy linen.

Hypoallergenic

Linen, because of its natural fibers and production process, is specially formulated to be hypoallergenic. In other words, using and wearing linen will help you to avoid common allergic reactions found with other fabrics, particularly synthetics.

Long recommended for people with sensitive skin, studies are now showing that linen may even actually help people overcome certain allergies.
This is an exciting time for the science of linen and we here at Fabrics-store.com are just as eager as everybody to discover even more hidden health benefits of this fabulous fabric. Weâ??ll keep you posted!

Antibacterial

Linen is one of the â??purestâ?• fabrics available anywhere. Because of its incredibly strong tensile strength, linen resists not only stains and dirt, but also inhibits the growth of bacteria that are so common with fabrics that have neither the essential fiber qualities or fundamental weave of linen. Hospitals and service industries around the world use linen products to assure the utmost in sterile environments. In fact, linen thread is the only suture approved for internal use in the human body!

A fabric that keeps you warm when itâ??s cold and keeps you cool when itâ??s hot? The benefits of linen just donâ??t stop! Linen is naturally thermo-regulating-itâ??s insulating in the cold, and cool and breathable when itâ??s warm.

In fact, studies have shown that people wearing linen in hot weather have skin temperatures many degrees cooler than people who arenâ€™t wearing linen. Keep your cool with linen!

Donâ??t Let Them Pull The Wool Over Your Eyes. Linen Is The Clear Winner Every Time.

The benefits of linen are undeniable. From being easy to sew, to its durability and ease of care, linen is almost always the perfect fabric choice for every application. Wait a minuteâ?¦itâ??s not just â??almost always,â?• linen IS always the perfect fabric choice.

Take a look at some of the reasons why linen is simply unmatched in quality and excellence.

- highly absorbent
- extremely durable
- long lasting
- resists lint and pilling
- easy to sew
- moth resistant
- resists dirt, stains, and abrasions
- easy care

Linen is hygroscopic. In other words, it rapidly absorbs and releases moisture. In fact, linen can absorb up to 20% of its own weight in water before it even feels wet-making it the perfect choice for your dish towels and napkins.

Extremely Durable

With its high tensile strength, linen is up to three times as strong as both cotton and wool. No more worrying about everyday use-youâ??ll pull out your linens for every occasion. In addition, linenâ??s durability makes it a joy to work with for all your apparel, hobby, and home dÃ?Â©cor projects.

Exceptionally Long-lasting

Linen is one of the few fabrics that actually gets better with age. Softer. Smoother. More lustrous. Lasting up to 12 times as long as cotton, linens regularly pass from generation to generation and redefine the meaning of heirloom.

Easy to Sew, Non-Shrinking and Non-Stretching

Due to the linen fabric weave, even sewing beginners can have wonderful results with their first project. Cutting a pattern out of linen is a breeze compared to other fabrics, the linen thread works as a grid making it easier on your eyes. Less ironing is involved while sewing with linen, to have a corner or a hem hold until you are ready to sew it, you do not need an iron, you just need your hand to run over the fold and linen fabric will stay in place.

Because it only minimally stretches or shrinks upon first cleaning, linen is the obvious alternative to cottons and wools for all your fabric needs. No more guesswork on how much shrinkage youâ??ll need to account for in your patterns. No more stretching, so your completed work always keeps its perfect fit and finish.
